

Thomas Terry of Bucks* is a son of Robert Terry of Flushing, Queens, New York

By Richard L. Tolman, Ph. D.

DNA evidence has now proven that Thomas Terry of Bucks is a son of Robert Terry of Flushing, Queens, New York. Five proven descendants of Thomas Terry, b. 1653 of Bucks County, Pennsylvania have DNA matches (~20 each) to the 17th century Farrington families of Flushing, New York and Massachusetts indicating that Thomas himself was a possessor of Farrington DNA from his mother Sarah Farrington Terry.

The immigrant Edmund Farrington of Olney, Buckinghamshire, England¹ came to the Massachusetts Bay Colony in 1635 on the Hopewell.² He had married 29 Nov 1613 at Sherrington, Buckinghamshire Elizabeth Newhall. They had six children. The descendants of the two of the four sons has been excellently researched and published by Marcia Wiswall Lindberg.³

There were three⁴ colonial Farrington families described in Dorothy Farrington Parker's The Farringtons: Colonists and Patriots (1981): John Farrington of Dedham, MA (no obvious relation to the other two), Edmund Farrington of Lynn, MA (father) and Edward Farrington of Flushing, NY (son). In the father Edmund's will,⁵ probated 28 Mar 1671, appears— 'to my son Roberd (sic) Terry twenty shillings to be paid him after my decease.' Robert Terry married Edmund's third child, a daughter Sarah Farrington, born 5 Sep 1619 at Sherrington parish.

There were many Farrington matches (>21; to the author, a Terry descendant⁶). Question: Why are there so many matches? Answer: Whether a match is useful depends on whether there is a useful paper pedigree attached to it which allows a Common Ancestor to be identified. The number of matches at a given generation distance should be relatively constant with shared centiMorgans within statistical limits. The Farringtons are a well-studied family with lots of records that allow lengthy pedigrees to be constructed—hence lots of useful matches. Shown below in Cluster 1 is a selection of matches, common ancestor Edmund Farrington (1588-1670), the immigrant. Parker's 'John Farrington of Dedham' vide supra is also proven to be a relative of Edmund Farrington (in Buckinghamshire) as several matches were discovered to the Dedham family (not shown) .

There were also many Tilton matches; a selection is shown below in Cluster 2. This absolutely confirms Rebecca as a dau of Robert Terry and a sister to Thomas Terry of Bucks.

It is suspicious that there are many low cM Tilton matches (not shown) to generations earlier than John Tilton II (married Rebecca Terry)—there must have been another Terry-Tilton DNA exchange (marriage) earlier than 1674; perhaps in England.

There are no conclusive matches to John Terry, the son of Robert; records in New Jersey and New York are too poor in this time period and what records exist cannot be separated easily from the Massachusetts/Connecticut Terrys or from the Southold Terrys (cf. 'Terry Origins', in preparation). There are a couple of possibilities of possible descendants—both are born in New Jersey (Monmouth Co.). The 'Thomas James'⁷ match descends from John Terry, b. 15 Mar 1773 immigrated 1635 on the James. He probably died before 1675^{40,41} since in the valuation of estates in Flushing he does not appear after 1675, but his son John does.⁴² This Robert Terry was undoubtedly the brother of Richard and Thomas Terry of Lynn, Massachusetts and subsequently Southold, Long Island.⁴³

Robert and Sarah (Farrington) Terry had at least three children.
