

The Boydston-Snow Connection, Part 2

Marcia Case Field and Richard L. Tolman, Ph. D.

The Boydston-Snow Problem

Part 1 details the ancestry of David Boydston/Boylston and his family. This continuation of the Boydston-Snow problem deals with the ancestry of David Boydston's wife Mahala Snow (they were married<sup>1</sup> 1737 at Maryland). There are many Snow families in British Colonial America. Two of the early Snow immigrants to the New Plymouth Colony are Nicholas Snow (immigrated on the Anne in 1623, settled in Eastham (later Barnstable County), Massachusetts Bay Colony) and William Snow<sup>2</sup> (immigrated on the Susan and Ellen in 1635 and settled in Bridgewater, Massachusetts Bay Colony).

<sup>2</sup> William Snow married Rebecca Brown, a dau of Peter Brown, a Mayflower Pilgrim. A gdau of William and Rebecca, Betty Snow, married William Tolman in 1757; cf. John D. Austin Mayflower Families Through Five Generations, Vol. 7 'Family: Peter Brown (Boston, MA: General Society of Mayflower Descendants, 1988) pp. 7, 194; online at FamilySearch; hereafter Mayflower Families.

Because of the Snow matches (DNA) we are here focused on Nicholas Snow, his wife Constance Hopkins (immigrated on the Mayflower in 1620) and their extended family who lived for the most part in what became Barnstable County, Massachusetts in 1685.

Mahala Snow

FamilySearch Family Tree and Domonoske 3rd Ed<sup>3</sup> have parents for Mahala: John and Elizabeth Hudson Snow. This has been incontrovertibly confirmed from a descendant's DNA (Marcia Case Field, hereafter MCF), see Part 1. Mahala's mother Elizabeth Huttson/Hudson<sup>4</sup> is identified as a dau of Nicholas and Elizabeth Freeman Huttson/Hudson, born at Pokomoke (Hundred), Somerset County, Maryland, British Colonial America.<sup>5</sup>

It remains to identify in time and place Elizabeth Hudson's husband John Snow, of which there are many. To keep track of all the John Snows, they will be numbered chronologically in the essay. John Snow should have been born in the timeframe 1665 to 1680 (wife Elizabeth b. 1671).<sup>6</sup>

It was noticed that in the Hopkins/Maryland search (from Part 1) a Common Ancestor (CA) [Constance Hopkins Snow] was uncovered for the 'Stephanie Evans' match; this is an indication that John Snow may be a descendant of Constance's husband Nicholas Snow.

Nicholas Snow<sup>7</sup> immigrated to Plymouth in 1623 and settled in Eastham, Barnstable, Massachusetts in 1625; his wife Constance Hopkins (m. 1627) immigrated with her father in 1620 on the Mayflower. These Snows are a predominantly Massachusetts family with most descendants remaining in Barnstable County. One of Nicholas' sons, John Snow (I) 1638-1692 married<sup>8,9</sup> (1) 1667 at Eastham Mary Smale/Smalley (1647-1703); they raised<sup>10</sup> a large family in Eastham, Barnstable.<sup>11</sup> After John (I)'s death in 1692, Mary married Ephraim Doane.

In this database (Maryland Land Patent Volumes) there are several entries for Freeman and Hudson who were transports, but nothing for Snow or Boylston.

Summary: George Hasfurt married (1) Clemence Kerne (d. 1677). He married (2) after 1677 Elizabeth Freeman Hudson, widow of Nicholas Hudson (or Hutson/Huttson), George then died before 20 Feb Jan 1686/7 at Pocomoke Hundred. 'The widow Elizabeth had three children with first husband Nicholas Hudson: Elizabeth, b. 1671, m. John Snow; Richard, b. (before 1669) and d. 1676; and Violetta (b. before 1669), m. Richard Watson.' Nicholas Hudson transported (see Note 4) from Accomack, VA in 1669 with wife Elizabeth (Freeman), son Richard and dau Violetta.

John (I) and Mary Smalley Snow had three sons that included a John (II) 1678-1738. The other two sons, Isaac and Elisha, left Barnstable County for the Duck Creek Hundred (Delaware). The Duck Creek Hundred (north of Dover toward Smyrna) is directly east of Kent County, Maryland and northeast of Somerset County, Maryland, home of the Boydstones. John (II)'s brother Isaac Snow was born 10 Aug 1683 in Barnstable, Massachusetts and died 21 Mar 1745 at Duck Creek Hundred, Kent, Delaware; he married abt 1710 at Kent, Delaware Alice Hall.<sup>12</sup> John (II)'s other brother Elisha was born 10 Jan 1686/7 and died Jan 1752 at Duck Creek Hundred, Kent, Delaware; he married abt 1711 unknown and in 1737 (2) Elizabeth Redman.

John (II) 1678-1738 married 25 Feb 1700/1 at Eastham Elizabeth Ridley, dau of Mark Ridley of Truro,<sup>13</sup> Barnstable; he died 1738 at Duck Creek Hundred, Kent, Delaware. Although John (II) fits the timeframe to be Mahala's father [John] there is much to indicate it is not so—in addition to possessing a different spouse, his grave details,<sup>14</sup> his will of 1738,<sup>15</sup> and published histories<sup>16</sup> establish him with a separate, different identity. Mahala is not mentioned anywhere in the records he left behind. This presents a problem for us because of the genealogical constraints outlined above. There remain simply very few options for us: we know that John

Snow must be born around Elizabeth Hudson's birthyear 1671 and is a likely grandson of Nicholas and Constance Hopkins Snow.

It is straightforward to confirm whether John Snow married to Elizabeth Hudson is a son of John (I) and Mary Smalley Snow. Search of MCF's DNA for Smalley/Massachusetts gave 31 matches and 19 of them have an MCF CA [John and Ann Walden Smalley]—these are the parents of Mary Smalley. Additionally, there are 3 matches with a different and earlier CA [Edward and Elizabeth Shurt Smalley]— the proposed grandparents<sup>17</sup> of Mary Smalley (See Cluster 1). Not all matches are included in the cluster—those with high-risk confounding surnames were omitted (see Part 1 for the confounding surname list). The CA's are strong evidence of direct lineage, but 'W. B.' (8 cM, with no confounding surnames) has to be considered a proof.

John (II) and his wife Elizabeth Ridley began their family in Eastham and had four children there, but they then moved to Truro abt 1708 where eight more children were born.<sup>18</sup> John (I)

<sup>17</sup> Underhill p. 22 endorses Shebnah Rich's (note 22) contention that Edward and Elizabeth Shurt Smalley are grandparents of Mary Smalley, but there is no supporting source (others have not accepted this linkage). The fact is that MCF's DNA matches ('Nancy Cole' and 'M. H.') seems to add proof to this idea since DNA is shared from Francis Smalley of Truro.

had established a presence in Truro in 1639 (then called ‘Pamet/Paomet’) and was one of the oldest proprietors there and of course John (II)’s wife Elizabeth Ridley was raised there. John (II) established himself as a stalwart in the Truro Congregational Church.<sup>19,20</sup>

In Mar 1728 John (II) was chosen as ruling elder in the Truro Church, but he never served ‘being discarded for suspected adultery and other misdemeanors’.<sup>21,22</sup> About 1728 John (II) moved to the Duck Creek Hundred in Delaware where he joined his brothers Isaac and Elisha who had already established themselves there in 1711 (his wife and children stayed in Truro, Cape Cod).<sup>23</sup> John (II) married again in Delaware (2) Hannah _____ and had one son, David.<sup>24,25</sup> No divorce record has been found. Perhaps the reference to ‘adultery and other misdemeanors’ involved a relationship with Elizabeth Hudson and the birth of dau Mahala.

We know that Elizabeth Hudson was born in Somerset County, Maryland and lived in Maryland at Mahala’s birth (from Mahala’s marriage record); we do not know if and when she married or died; she was age 47 at the birth of her dau Mahala. Domonoske<sup>26</sup> and Torrance<sup>27</sup> have both indicated that Elizabeth was married to John Snow, but no source is given. Examination of the Maryland and Delaware records revealed little. There is no mention of any Snows in the later 17th-18th century in Maryland, except for a 1740 marriage<sup>28</sup> of a John Snow to Mary Westwood at Anne Arundel County, Maryland. In the Maryland Judicial Records of 1689-1690<sup>29</sup> there is a judgment against a John Snow, Planter of Accomack County for payment for 1500 lbs of tobacco. Nothing relevant was found in Delaware as the records there are very poor for this time period.

Some have placed Mahala as a dau of John (II)'s brother Elisha<sup>30</sup> and his unknown (1) wife [Elizabeth Hudson would then be identified as the unknown wife (1)]. The problem with this scenario is that Torrance<sup>31</sup> has indicated that Elizabeth Hudson's spouse was named John Snow and Elisha Snow, her purported father, does not mention her in his will<sup>32</sup> although all the other living children are mentioned. There is also the age gap between Elisha and Elizabeth (15 yrs); as wife (1) Elizabeth would have borne four children after age 42. A search of MCF DNA for Hall/DE and Redman/DE or VA (wives of Isaac and Elisha) gave no matches adding further evidence that they are not on MCF's direct line.

It has been shown that Mahala's descendant MCF possesses Snow, Smalley, Hopkins, Hudson, and Freeman DNA. As Sherlock once said (Arthur Conan Doyle, The Sign of the Four) 'When you have eliminated the impossible, whatever remains, however improbable, must be the truth.' It's not so improbable—John (II) Snow was an accused adulterer and a man that had no compunction in abandoning his Truro family; he must be John Snow, the father of an illegitimate dau Mahala Snow.

37 iv. ISAAC SNOW was born 1727 at Duck Creek Hundred, Kent, Delaware, British Colonial America. He married Martha ____ and had six children: Ebenezer, Isaac, Joseph, Benjamin, John and William. They moved to Surry Co. North Carolina abt 1778.

18. Elisha Snow was born 10 Jan 1686/7 at Eastham, Barnstable and died Jan 1752 at Duck Creek Hundred, British Colonial America; buried<sup>66</sup> at Naudain Family Cemetery, Leipsic, Kent, Delaware (Snow Farms is NNE abt one mile). He and his brother Isaac left Cape Cod in 1712 and purchased land in the Duck Creek Hundred (near Smyrna, today Leipsic, DE).

The Snow farm (Elisha eventually acquired Isaac's share of the property) was near 'Snowland'<sup>67</sup> (the name of Naudain residence) and encompasses a family burial ground, today called Naudain Family Cemetery (Elisha's gdau Rebecca Snow married a Naudain).

Elisha married (1) abt 1711 perhaps at Barnstable County, British Colonial America unknown (she had died by Jul 1737). He married (2) after 20 Jul 1737 at Duck Creek (Smyrna), Kent, Delaware Elizabeth Redman dau of John and Helen Preston Redman. She died after 1752.<sup>68</sup> On 10 Jul 1737 Elisha gave 'after death' 199 acres to be divided between son James and Elizabeth 'Redmon'. Ten days later he gave a tract of equal size to sons Elisha, Joshua and James Snow. On the same day he gave 'after death' 246 acres to Elizabeth, dau of John Redman, provided Elizabeth marry him.<sup>69</sup> There is no mention of a dau in all of this.

Elisha and unknown Snow had four children.<sup>70</sup>
